FINANCIAL. There was only quietude among the banks yesterday, but when Friday brings 'the inevitable fourth" of the month, some stir may be looked for. The serious bankruptcies announced by the telegraph the last few days have fully aroused again the sentiment of caution, and safety is more a consideration than doing business. At the banks money courts $20.0 per fact, for any serious account. a consideration than doing business. At the banks money quotes 82 10 per cent, per annum; exchange quoted on New York and the east & discount buying; New England sight, with three days grace, is discount; New Orieans, ig discount; selling on all points at par. There has been some talk about putting the New Orieans rate to is premium, but some of the banks appear to think the contingency that ting the New Orleans rate to is premium, but some of the banks appear to think the contingency that suggressed the change is merely temporary, and they are contented with the present quotation. The New York Bulletin, of Saturday, reports: "New York exchange was quoted to day as follows at the places named: Savannah—buying, $\frac{1}{2}\text{stilled}$ edition, it is allowed to day as follows at the places named: Savannah—buying, $\frac{1}{2}\text{stilled}$ edition, it is allowed to demand: 100 discountapar, Charleston case: $\frac{1}{2}\text{if}(3-16, \frac{1}{2}\text{if}(a)\text{if}(a)\text{.} \text{New Orleans—commercial, 7 1667 by bank, 5-16. St. Louis, par Chicago, 50 premium. Milwankee, par," On the street the call for money is not active, and good collaterals would make paper go at ten per cent. The rehypothecation system is attracting attention. The New York Bulletin says. "The fallure of Netter & Co. has created no little stir among bankers, by the discovery that a lender may rehypothecate his collaterals and created in little stir among bankers, by the discovery that a lender may rehypothecate his collaterals and created no little stir among bankers, by the discovery that a lender may rehypothecate his collaterals as occurred, with no further consequence than a liability in damages. This is a very defective condition of law, and no time should be lost in securing a better protection of collateral security." The New York Herold observes: "It is rather curious that the failure of Netter & Co., as being of the same lik as lenders, should have disturbed the confidence of capitalists. Hitherto it has, very properly, been the custom of lenders to scrutinize the collaterals of borrowers, while the latter have intrusted their securities to the former with every confidence in their probity. It appears now that it is quite as necessary to scrutinize the character and integrity of the lenders. With the boot thus shifted to the other leg, as the sharp practice (to call it by no stronger term) of Messars. Netter & C BY TELEGRAPH. PARIS, January 2.—Rentes, 107f. 921/22. The New York Bulletin, of Saturday, reports:

"There has been considerable activity to-day, with some excitement, and quite a recovery on values, the tone taking rather buoyant shape. To a large extent this may be at ributed to the natural desire to cover up and settle contracts with the close of the month and year, but other elements have developed calculated to afford and to a market disposed toward a higher range. The foreign advices acted as an important factor tending to this end, the cable bringing a showing of stronger and higher theyrood, and the belief of a more peaceful complexion of affairs between the contending powers holding ground. The home situation, too, was to some extent atimulating, especially during the latter portion of the day, when the showing at the interior towns gave token of a smaller run of receipts for next week, although a considerable percentage over the corresponding 3,441 The following are the official telegrams of the ion of the domestic an ricets as received by Merket, Recists. The collectors were out with their New Year's bills resterday, and that together with the absence of any up river arrivals, made business very quiet. Feed was all a standatill, except a little corn. Potatoes and apples were very quiet, holders hoping for colder weather and nigher prices. The scarcity of poultry strengthened prices, but eggs were in want of demand. The St. Louis hapsthican, of Tuesday, reports light arrivals there meanly all coming in was injured by dry rot, and was selling at 30 & 40c a busnel. It will be as well for our people to keep a "snarp look out" against the dry rot stock—It will not pay. The Clin limall Enquirer says polatoes there are merely nominal, and are slow at 400 55c a bushel from store. The Louisville Enquirer, or Tuesday, reports: "We quote cussess, early rose and peachblows at $1 4001 50 per barrel on ar rival, and $1 6501 75 at store in shipping order." Louis. She discharged a good pile at Glenn's wharfboat.

The Storm No. 3, which passed up New Year's day, with a tow of loaded barges, burned her boilers between here and Fort Pillow, and, leaving her tow there, she returned to Memphis for repairs. Her cargo consists of 40 hogsheads of sugar and 1800 barrels molasses on one barge, and 518 bales cotton on another barge taken in tow here as she passed up. Her cargo is all right.

The James W. Gaff arrived yesterday ahead of the Evansville mail, with 400 tons of freight, having registered 96 passengers on the trip down. She returns to the Ohio river at five o'clock to-morrow evening. We received a letter from Colonel Moore, dated at Evansville, announcing the coming of the Gaff, but it is written in such murderous French that we cannot spare the time to undertake to translate it into readable English for publication. We give this much of the letter: The Gaff gives special rates to all points east, transferring passengers and baggage to the railroads at Cincinnati free of charge.
